THANK YOU FOR CHOOSING KÜRYAKYN!

*ORIENTATION

Inside cover halves are the halves that are closest to each other or “back to back” when the covers are installed.

- Right side covers are used on the throttle cable, or the cable closest to the front of the bike.
- Left side covers are used on the idle cable, or the cable closest to the rear of the bike.

NOTE

You will be using four of the six chrome covers so installation only requires a total of 4 retaining clips. Because of their small size and the ease of which they can “spring” away from you, two extras are included.

TOOLS SUGGESTED

Small needle nose pliers

PROCEDURE

STEP 1 Locate the combination of covers that best fit your application. The “inside” covers will leave a small portion of raw metal exposed, adjacent to where the cable enters the throttle control housing. Outside covers come tall and short to accommodate H-Ds different throttle cables.

STEP 2 Hold the cover halves in place around the appropriate cable and insert the retaining clips in the retaining ring grooves at each end of the cover.
